MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

20 years on and still leading the way in recycling

If you were living in the north east of Milton Keynes in 1990, you may well have been one of our recycling pioneers who took part in an innovative trial recycling scheme. This then led the way to household recycling being introduced across Milton Keynes in one of the first borough-wide schemes of its kind in the UK.

For many of us 1990 does not seem that long ago, yet at that time recycling mostly depended on residents taking their recyclables to communal recycling banks. It was in 1989 when councillors at the then Milton Keynes Borough Council had the foresight to propose the implementation of a full door to door recycling scheme across the borough within three years.

In June 1990 a pilot scheme was launched in Great Linford by TV personality and keen environmentalist Bill Oddie. Residents in Gifford Park, Neath Hill, Pennyland, Bolbeck Park, Willen Park, Downs Barn and Downhead Park also took part.

Our recycling scheme has come a long way since its humble beginnings using blue and red boxes. Newspaper and magazines were collected in the red box, while food and drink cans, plastic bottles and glass went into the blue box. These were all collected by a separate vehicle and hand sorted on the kerbside into different compartments. The blue and red box system was chosen as a result of the then council waste chief Keith Ely seeing a similar system operating in Florida, USA, while over there on holiday.

Cllr Brian White, one of the councillors who supported the pilot scheme, said it was a far-sighted decision to make recycling a priority at a time when it was considered as optional. Milton Keynes had attempted to become a "Recycling City" as part of a government-led initiative, but Leicester was chosen instead.

"We chose to beat Leicester and show them how to do it," said Cllr White.

"We had the vision and went on to deliver it, overcoming all the obstacles with a real can-do attitude. We were not only successful in setting up our own recycling scheme, but also helped many other councils across the UK and Ireland to set up their own recycling systems."

Did our recycling pioneers of 1990 ever envisage we would now be recycling so many materials collected from our doorsteps every week and recycling almost half of our waste? "This was always our ambition," said Cllr White.

Year	total recycled	percentage of all waste
1990/91	400 tonnes	0.5%
2009/10	58,000 tonnes	47.76%

Over the past 20 years we have recycled 412,000 tonnes of waste - this would fill 41,900 double decker buses, enough to cover every main road in Milton Keynes twice over nose to tail.

"Keen environmentalist Bill Oddie performed the official launch of the pilot scheme, together with the Mayor Cllr Betty Hanks."

"Community Recycling Opportunities Programme, a Milton Keynes based charity, was the council's first official recycling company."

"All recyclables were hand-sorted on the kerbside."

"What to put where - do you remember this?"

TWO of the stars of a hit West End Musical were in the city yesterday. Funnyman Brian Conley and TV favourite Les Dennis were at Milton Keynes Theatre to promote Hairspray which starts its run on September 21. The musical tells the story of Tracy Turnblad a big girl with big hair and a bigger heart who sets out to follow her dream, inspire her mum and win the boy she loves.

Outcry over bus changes

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE wrath of hundreds of bus users was felt at an explosive protest meeting.

Frustrated passengers fired their woes at operator Arriva at Christ the Cornerstone Church on Friday following April's timetable overhaul.

Children have missed GCSE and A level exams while pensioners have been left stranded on estates, the panel of 14 heard.

There was no public consultation before the changes were imposed, when several services were axed and route changes left some estates bypassed altogether.

Through a series of questions and interjections they painted a picture of late buses and ten minute journeys becoming 90 minutes long.

There were cries of 'just put it back to how it was' and 'we want the number six back', with the qualms spanning the age groups.

One Walton High student said that her ten minute journey on the number 20 has become a long trip to the city centre and back. She now gets a lift with her mother instead.

While Arriva conceded that changes must be made, it emerged that 56 days' notice must be given before this takes effect.

October was being mooted as a deadline for alterations.

Other complaints surrounded Real Time Passenger Information boards not working and refurbished bus stops becoming redundant.

MP for Milton Keynes South Iain Stewart said he is meeting with Arriva's chief executive and will also scrutinise the coalition government's agenda to devolve powers to a local level.

His colleague Mark Lancaster added: "In my five years and five weeks as an MP I haven't had as many letters on one subject as I have on this. We will lobby at every level to ensure we get this sorted out as soon as possible."

Peter Ballantyne, organiser and chairman, tried to rein in the crowd as jeers came from every angle, admitting proceedings were getting out of control.

He said he had never seen such strength of feeling in the city, adding: "What has happened is defying logic. I'm proud to live in Milton Keynes but I think we deserve better"

One contentious change was to the number 2, which now bypasses Giffard Park and Bolbeck Park in order to shave 4.5 minutes off the journey.

One resident facetiously suggested missing out all pick-ups to save 25 minutes.

Richard Davies, Arriva general manager, said: "Clearly we've saved time by not going round Giffard Park, we know how many passengers that affects. It's purely trading off between the two. I accept as a resident of Bolbeck Park you only see the negative side but with all these things there's a negative and a positive."

Margaret Matthews from the Stony Stratford Business Association said that the town is losing customers already because of the change in services.

Bus user Edward Butler-Ellis added: "It's all very well making these changes but if you're not going to engage people and make them a part of what you're doing then you will get this. I don't want to listen to why a service is the way it is - I want to know where we're going from here. We need to start again."

Mr Davies implied that money was at the heart of the problem: "Every issue would have a solution as long as someone wanted to spend some money on it."

Cllr Chris Williams stood up for his residents.

"I have had complaint after complaint after complaint. Two residential homes in my ward both had bus services removed so access to the doctors, shops and friends was taken away at the strike of an Arriva pen."

Milton Keynes Council is collating the issues on which the changes will be based. Contact passenger.transport@milton-keynes.gov.uk or 01908 252542 for your examples to be registered.

OFF TO SEE THE WORLD CUP LIVE

A FAMILY from Grange Farm are packing their bags today to make it to the World Cup in time for England's second game.

Victoria and Cuj Chukwulozie will fly to South Africa tonight with their 10-year-old son Julian (right) and five-year-old daughter Cindy for a holiday planned solely around the World Cup.

The family went to the tournament four years ago in Germany and applied for tickets to England's Group C match against Algeria last April.

The 10-day holiday has come at a cost for the Chukwulozie's – two adult and two children's tickets to the game have set them back more than £400.

But they are determined to make the most of the trip, embracing the vuvulezas and culture as well as the football.

Victoria, 37, said: "We went to the 2006 World Cup in Germany and enjoyed it. My husband loves an opportunity to go somewhere different, so from that experience he wanted us to do this. It's a big family holiday, and an expensive one.

"We've been planning the trip for a year – I have a map of places to go visit, when you watch football you don't normally get to enjoy the place you are in so we've made sure we have tourist-type things to do."

Last time round they watched the USA lose 2-1 to Ghana, a day that clearly lives long in the memory with Victoria, and on this occasion they are looking forward to supporting England even though Arsenal fan Julian will not be watching his favourite player Theo Walcott.

Victoria added: "We had a good time in Germany and think it's going to be better this time.

"I want to see the England players in action, I've seen them on TV but seeing them in the flesh will be exciting.

"You never know on the day but I hope England win because I don't want to part of a dejected atmosphere.

"I remember when Ghana beat the USA the Ghanaians were waving their flags, hooting their cars, dancing on the streets and it was a wonderful atmosphere."

If you drink, DON'T drive

DO not be a World Cup loser.

That is the message from Milton Keynes Council's road safety team who are warning people that the World Cup is not an excuse to drink and drive.

With thousands of fans packing into bars to watch a month of football the road safety team are reminding those in Milton Keynes who enjoy a drink not to get behind the wheel.

The road safety team has launched an 'Own Goal' poster and beermat campaign in pubs and clibs across Central Milton Keynes.

Road safety officer Vince Morley said: "The World Cup is a fantastic event that captures the imagination of many, many people. Fans will experience the highs and lows that is football and no doubt there will be a lot of drinking going on. We want people to have a great time but please, if you are going to have a drink, don't drive."

The 'Own Goal' literature depicts a driver who loses 0-1 to a breathalyser in the fourth minute of added time, with the strapline 'Don't end your World Cup early by drinking and driving'.

There is a way to escape

TO non-football fans the next three and a half weeks could be a living hell.

The World Cup is all over the papers, TVs, bars, shops and is the main topic of coversation. That is why energie Fitness has organised a pamper night in a 'Football Free Zone' this Friday from 8pm-10pm. Free taster treatments including blow-dry's, massage, facials and manicures are available.

Boost for 2018 Cup Bid

MORE than 300 local business people and sporting celebrities enjoyed England's 1-1 draw with USA on three large screens in the ballroom at stadiummk.

Dr Ann Limb, Chair of the MK 2018 bid board opened the evening by welcoming the Lord Lieutenant of Buckinghamshire, High Sheriff of Buckinghamshire, and the Mayor of Milton Keynes to the high class event which was attended by three footballing legends: referee Dermot Gallaher, former Arsenal and England player Tony Woodcock and MK Dons and England under 21 striker Sam Baldock.

Alastair Campbell was the special guest and he raised funds with a book signing and taking to the stage to run the auction.

The evening raised funds for the England 2018 World Cup Bid and MK's international sporting city status.

‘Organised’ skunk gang behind bars

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A GANG behind three cannabis factories have been jailed for a total of 17 years.

An industrial unit in Milton Keynes, a house in the city as well as a house in Hatfield, Herts had been used for growing cannabis plants.

The gang were out to produce skunk, a powerful form of the drug which would have netted them between £200,000 and £300,000.

But what they didn’t know in late 2008 as production was underway was that they were being secretly watched by undercover police officers.

On Thursday gang leader Peter Clifford, 46, of Lawn Farm, Oakhill Road, Shenley Church End was jailed for eight years.

Passing sentence Judge Stephen Warner told him: “You provided three premises, you played for high stakes and you provided the financial backing for the operation.”

The court heard that during the surveillance operation, officers saw members of the gang buy an entire stock of plant pots from a Morrisons supermarket to grow cannabis seedlings in.

It was in units 5 and 6 at Waterside Park, Stow House, Old Wolverton, where most of the plants were being grown.

Both units were owned by Clifford and when police finally swooped on the premises in early 2009 they found 3,176 plants being grown.

Machinery had been brought in to create an underground cellar for the growing of the plants and electricity was being bypassed illegally.

Peter Shaw prosecuting said the potential earnings from the crop that was discovered at Waterside Park was between £200,000 and £300,000.

The cost of the power the gang had illegally used was more than £30,000.

Another home owned by Clifford in Stokenchurch Place in Milton Keynes, was raided and found to be another cannabis factory. That was not fully functional and only 44 cannabis plants were recovered.

Even so the court heard they would have produced a yield worth between £10,000 and £15,000.

Another house in Northdown Road, Hatfield had also been found to have links to the gang.

That too was owned by Clifford and had been set up for the growing of cannabis, though not on the same scale as the Milton Keynes operation.

Back in Milton Keynes another of Clifford’s properties in Gloucester Road was raided.

There were no plants being grown because it was still being converted into a drug production factory and foil coating was on the walls of four bedrooms.

In the dock along with Clifford was Paul Gates, 45, of Chaucher Way, Hitchin and Christopher Judd, 28, of Whitehorn Lane, Letchworth who were all found guilty following a trial earlier this year of conspiracy to supply cannabis between June 1, 2008 and January 11, 2009.

With them in the dock was Wayne Vickers a 31-year-old father of five from Bilberry Road, Clifton, Beds who had admitted a single conspiracy charge.

Two brothers, Lee Johnson, 25 from Lilac Road, Dogsthorpe, Peterborough and 19-year-old Jamie Johnson from Johns Road, Peterborough were also in the dock to be sentenced for an offence of being concerned in the supply cannabis with their co-defendant Judd.

Sentencing the men Judge Stephen Warner described the Milton Keynes conspiracy as: “a sophisticated, highly-organised and extensively planned cannabis production operation.”

Vickers was jailed for 27 months. Gates received 15 months.

Judd, was jailed for a total of five and a half years.

Johnson was jailed for 27 months plus a further two weeks for breaching a suspended sentence.

Johnson received 18 months’ detention.

HOUSEMATE: Ife Kuku

FACING THE PUBLIC VOTE: Shabby

Does Shabby stay in the house? You decide

ONE of two Big Brother housemates from Milton Keynes is up for eviction in week one.

Shabby Katchadourain, real name Keeley, was put up for eviction by her fellow housemates in the first round of nominations.

Shabby, a former pupil at Ousedale School in Newport Pagnell who now squats in London, entered the Big Brother house last Wednesday and was joined by an old schoolmate, Ife Kuku.

Ife, 25, is a professional dancer who has already enjoyed a taste of fame as one of Cheryl Cole’s backing dancers, and has also been a backing vocalist on The X Factor. But it is Shabby who has made the biggest splash in the 11th, and final series of the popular 24/7 reality show.

The child actress-turned film maker was chosen by her housemates to be up for the public vote along with Dave and Sunshine.

However, Shabby, Dave and Sunshine were given a chance by Big Brother to save themselves from facing the public vote this week by competing in a task, Hickory Dickory Dock.

Their task was to carry big pieces of foam cheese across an assault course of a floor of revolving disks, while dressed as mice. The winner was the housemate who completed the task in the quickest time possible.

Sunshine failed to complete the task, Shabby took 3 minutes 45 seconds and Dave won the task in 1 minute 31 seconds.

Dave picked Rachael to be up for eviction with Shabby and Sunshine. The first eviction takes place on Friday.

■ Do you know either Ife or Shabby? If you do let us know by sending your comments to editor@mk-news.co.uk

MK NEWS will follow the progress of the BB duo throughout their stay in the house.

Schools are at threat

SIR - In reply to the article June 4, 2010 Academies plan 'will cut red tape'… no, it will cut democratic local accountability.

The Secretary of State for Education Michael Gove defends his plans to fast track our best schools out of the democratic control of the people.

It is unknown whether academy schools will cut red tape, but it is certain that our LEAs will lose their best-performing schools if this undemocratic policy is allowed to go ahead.

I would like to see a response from the local authority about this issue.

There has been no public response from the Liberal Democrat-led council, yet they may well be about to lose control of outstanding schools in Milton Keynes to the Secretary of State for Education without being told.

His fast-tracking of schools out of LEA control, literally at a click of a button direct to the Department of Education, is undemocratic, without consultation and the first step to privatisation of our schools.

Those parents whose children do not go to a school labelled 'outstanding' will be perceived as second rate, despite the hard work of teachers in those schools.

It is a first step on the slippery slide into selection and segregation, even though Michael Gove denies this.

The Secretary of State claims to want to cut back red tape.

That is fine, but do this without removing the best schools from LEA control.

Cutting red tape is being used to distract from the substantive issue, that of demolishing the local accountability that headteachers and governors have to the people elected to represent us, our local councillors.

Headteachers and governors, do not own our schools, we do. We ought to be consulted in a process that aims to dismantle our state schooling structures.

Opted out schools would no longer co-operate in partnership with other schools in their area. And since a percentage of the money that goes to the LEA for backup services will in future go directly to the opted out school, the LEAs will have a lot less money to serve those with the greatest need.

Mr Gove by-passes local democracy at his peril.

Headteachers and governors do not own our schools, we the electorate do.

We have not been consulted in our localities.

The Conservatives in opposition were highly critical of the Labour Government having centralized control over education.

Now Michael Gove intends to expand state control of our schools by undemocratically removing our best schools from the control of our elected councils.

Michael Gove will be pre-approving schools to opt out of democratic local control into the direct control of The Department of Education. Centralisation at the click of a button.

We must prevent this attempt to dismantle our state education system by by-passing local democracy.

Bus service comparisons went even further than I could have imagined

SIR - Many congratulations to the respondents to my letter asking people to stop whining about buses.

My friends and I had an informal bet on what would be the most abusive or outlandish reply, but never in our wildest imaginations did we expect that I would be compared to the apartheid system!

Mr Norton may be interested to know that I lived in South Africa for several years and left because I could no longer tolerate the undercurrent of racism, injustice and curruption that still exists there despite the official ending of apartheid.

No doubt Mr Norton has personal experience of South Africa too, as it is always unwise to comment on things about which we know nothing. On that note, yes, I do admit that I have no personal experience of the bus service in MK. Luckily, I have a car and a bike, and most importantly, wonderful friends and neighbours who are always willing to help.

How very sad that some people are so isolated that there is no-one they feel they can ask. A salutory lesson for us all to offer assistance wherever and whenever we can and not to rely on a nanny state to take care of others in our stead.

Mr Gaunt – do you need a lift? I'm sorry I can't offer you a high horse. I have just returned to the UK after 11 years abroad volunteering for charitable organisations in Third World countries and I'm reasonably humbled by the experience.

On the wrong track

SIR -I see the east-west link has raised its ugly head again.

I live near this railway and the trains that run past do not cause a noise problem, so I'm not objecting to this link on noise grounds.

I object to public money being spent to run a railway that sometimes has more crew then passengers, disrupts the flow of traffic across Milton Keynes and Bedfordshire, with numerous cars waiting at level crossings while a train with empty carriages passes by.

Now they want to extend this farcical line to Oxford spending millions of pounds while everyone else in the country is tightening their belts.

Seriously. How many people want to travel from Bedford to Oxford? Not many methinks.

A better way to live?

SIR - Please would you help me raise awareness about an exhibition I am running at Central Milton Keynes Library for the whole of June?

Titled 'Sharing Will Save the World' it is meant to be controversial.

The aim of the exhibition is to stimulate thinking and debate on how the world has come to be in its present state, to ask who it works for and who it doesn't, and to ask whether this is morally acceptable and sustainable.

It calls for a new way of doing things in every area of life, for the sake of the planet and everyone living on it.

It calls for us all to make and take every chance we can to be part of deciding what that new way will be.

There are many uncomfortable truths in this display but, equally, there are many seeds of hope. Powerful voices everywhere call for change.

Evidence shows that there are other ways of doing things which work but which have not yet been tried on a global scale. (And no, I'm not talking about communism.) Where there is the will, there will be a way.

The exhibition is interactive. There are post-it notes! I am also happy to meet people there and discuss it with them or attend a discussion group.

Take care with plants

SIR - I was extremely concerned by article on the front of your paper of June 9 regarding the case of the worker who suffered eye damage.

If the terminology used in the court case was the same as used in your article it not only shows that the contractor was ignorant of the plants that were being pruned but that the Health and Safety Executive were also.

Cacti have sap which generally is safe, the tall plants in the city centre are not cacti, they are African members of the Euphorbia family.

This family contains many common plants such as spurges and the Poinsettia. The liquid that would have spurted into the workers eyes was not sap but a very irritant latex.

A natural feature of these plants is the thick latex inside the plant which is under pressure and it is partially that pressure that helps to hold the stems upright, when cut into the latex will run or spurt out. Even when trimming the domestic members of this family precautions should be taken not to get latex onto the skin and if it does then it should be washed off immediately.

When handled sensibly there is no risk but to have taken no precautions is inexcusable and shows a complete lack of understanding of the plants that the company was responsible for. I feel very sorry for the worker concerned who is lucky to still have his sight at all.

Mansion House at Bletchley Park

Important work to crack the code will now go online

BY DAVID GALE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

BLETCHLEY PARK has had a cracking idea to put itself online.

Millions of documents stored at the World War II code-breaking centre are set to be digitised and made available on the internet.

Electronics company Hewlett-Packard has donated a number of scanners to the centre in Milton Keynes so volunteers can begin the ground-breaking task.

Many of the records at the once-secret centre have not been touched for years.

During the war, it was home to more than 10,000 men and women who decoded encrypted German messages.

The centre hopes that once the work starts, previously untold stories about the role Bletchley Park played in the war will be revealed.

The initial first phase of the project should take about three years to complete.

Simon Greenish, chief executive of the Bletchley Park Trust, said: "We've been wanting to do this for a while.

Simon Greenish

"It was first discussed five years ago, but we have just never had the funds.

"If I ever manage to secure £10,000 then that goes towards buying a new roof as this project just has not had the attention it deserves.

"But for the first time we hope we will be able to put everything into the public domain."

He said since the archive is so big nobody knows exactly what each individual document stored there contains.

Information expected to be found will include communication transcripts, communiques, memoranda, photographs, maps and other material relating to key events that took place during the war.

He added: "We have many boxes full of index cards, which have lots of different messages on them. But this will be our chance to follow a trail and put the messages together so we can find out what they really mean."

Currently most of the documents are too difficult to view or handle and few have access to them. But Bletchley Park hopes that its new archive will one day be a different type of gateway to the past.

Humbles sentenced for child sex offences

A MAN who lived in Milton Keynes has been given an indeterminate prison sentence, with a minimum of eight years, after pleading guilty to 21 serious sexual offences involving children.

David Humbles, 39, was sentenced at Huntingdon Crown Court on Friday after pleading guilty to 11 counts of rape, seven counts of indecent assault, one count of sexual assault and two counts of indecency with a child.

He will serve a minimum of eight years in prison before he can apply for parole.

Even then he will only be released if he can prove he is no longer a risk to the public.

He will also be on strict licence conditions for life and will be on the Sex Offenders Register for life.

Mr Humbles, from Lancashire, was formerly known as Max Mitchell and David Tompkins.

The sentence relates to offences committed against six children between the ages of four and 15 years old between 1992 and 2008.

Fifteen of the charges relate to offences committed in Milton Keynes; five charges relate to offences in Hertfordshire and one in Lancashire.

Det Con Tracey Benham, who led the investigation, said: "We are pleased that Humbles has been given an indeterminate sentence which should see him locked up for a very long time.

"Every one of his victims has been very brave during this whole ordeal and now that he is being made to pay for his despicable crimes they can hopefully start to rebuild their lives."

Natasha's backing for epilepsy week

BY DAVID GALE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A MILTON Keynes teenager is lending her support to a national campaign to raise awareness of epilepsy among young people.

Natasha Parsler will act as an ambassador for the campaign, launched by national charity Epilepsy Action, as part of this year's National Epilepsy Week which runs until Saturday.

Natasha,17, started having seizures just before Christmas 2008 when she was 16.

She said: "I have three types of seizure, which aren't completely controlled by medication yet.

"I have major seizures probably only once or twice a month now, but I have absences or minor seizures quite a lot.

"Most of the time I'm not too badly affected, but I do have to cancel plans now and again if I have any major seizures.

"I also can't drink alcohol or caffeine as they can cause a seizure.

"I can't drive so I have to rely on other people or public transport to get anywhere.

"I don't like to use public transport as I had a major seizure on a bus and got really confused.

"When I got off the bus I tried to cross the road and nearly got run over by a van.

"Nobody on the bus bothered to help me out, so now I get a bit paranoid if I ever feel as if I might have one when I'm using public transport.

"My medication makes me really groggy in the mornings so I'm often late for school.

"If I'm having a day where I am having a lot of absences or minor activity, then I don't absorb a lot of what's going on and get behind.

"I am going to be taking a third year over my A-Levels.

"I had a lot of seizures during my exams so need to do a lot of re-sits to make up for the ones I missed.

"I'm really pleased to be supporting Epilepsy Action's campaign.

"I hope that by being upfront about my epilepsy, I can help people understand what it is and how it can affect those who have it."

There are currently around 40,000 young people aged 12-20 with epilepsy in the UK.

Epilepsy Action's campaign aims to break down stigmas around epilepsy and show how young people with epilepsy can still do everything their peers can do.

It is hoped the campaign will teach young people how to manage their own epilepsy and highlight the resources available to them.

The campaign comes after the charity surveyed 265 young people with epilepsy.

The survey revealed that having the right information is the key to how well young people with epilepsy cope with their condition.

Aimee Gee, campaigns manager at Epilepsy Action, said: "It's great to see that lots of young people with epilepsy feel they are getting the support they need, but more can be done.

"There is no reason why young people with epilepsy can't do the same things as their friends providing they are well-informed about how to handle their condition.

"It is also vital that young people with epilepsy receive support at school or college to enable them to reach their full potential."

In response to the survey results, Epilepsy Action is re-launching its 'Upfront' information booklet for young people with epilepsy.

The booklet discusses several issues affecting young people with epilepsy. These include socialising, education, careers, driving, alcohol, drugs and contraception.

To download a free copy of 'Upfront' or for more information about the campaign, visit www.epilepsy.org.uk/nationalepilepsyweek

Carnival proves to be an 'ecstatic' experience

THERE was a big turnout in the sunshine at West Bletchley Carnival on Saturday.

the theme for this year was The Musicals as Mary Poppins, Blues Brothers, Chitty Chitty Bang Bang and High School The Musical among others made it a record turnout raising money for Willen Hospice.

The fun then spilled into Rickley Park where a hosts of sideshows and attractions entertained the crowds. Event coordinator Gennaro Corrado said: "We are absolutely ecstatic with the turnout and support for this ever-popular community event. By adding new dimensions and creativity the result clearly speaks for itself with the fantastic feedback we have received."

The sound of folk music

Colin 'rockstar' Kempster from Curvy Love Dogz on stage

MUSIC lovers flocked to Stony Stratford on Sunday for the traditional Folk on the Green festival.

Despite predictions of heavy rain showers revellers basked in the afternoon sunshine on Horsefair Green as no less than 14 acts took to the stage including the local 5Men Not Called Matt from the Vaults bar who opened the show.

Popular with the packed crowd were two of The Scrumdowners, Nixon and Theo, from Milton Keynes rugby club who played a mixture of foot tapping rock while The Curvy Love Dogz set of old favourites had the park jumping.

Topping the bill was the Steve Gifford Band who have their new album, Ungodly Hour, out this month.

They finished the show just as the forecasted rain made an appearance.

New schools get ready for start of term

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

WITH the end of the school term just six weeks away, two brand new £7M primary school buildings are taking shape on either side of the city.

Pupils from Rickley Park Primary and the new Brooklands Farm Primary will move into new buildings which will open for business in September 2010.

Rickley Park replaces the former Rivers Infant and Rickley Junior schools in west Bletchley.

It will be a 420 place four-11 school with attached nursery.

Designed by Robinson & Aadas architects, it is being built by Vinci Construction, one of Milton Keynes Council's school build framework partners.

Mark Bateman, headteacher of Rickley Primary said: "Obviously everyone connected to the school is thrilled that we are going to have such a wonderful new building. The children are watching the building grow and develop with great interest."

Brooklands Farm is the first of three new schools that will serve the new Eastern Expansion Area.

The school, off of the A5130 is also a 420 place four-11 primary with an attached nursery.

Designed by Robinson Architects, the school is being built by Volker Fitzpatrick, also one of Milton Keynes Council's school build framework partners.

Maxine Low, headteacher designate of the new Brooklands Primary School, said: "We can't wait to get started, it's really exciting to be involved in the development of a new school in a brand new community right from day one.

"The new buildings will provide a fantastic learning environment for our pupils and the wider community."

These new facilities are the latest in a succession of successful new school projects in Milton Keynes over the past two years. These have included the award winning Water Hall Primary in Bletchley, the remodelled Barleyhurst Primary School and the nationally acclaimed MK Academy.

Did you see the robber who took cyclist's phone?

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a cyclist was robbed last Tuesday.

At 1pm on June 8 the victim was riding his bicycle along Studley Knapp in Walnut Tree, close to the junction with Juniper Gardens, when he was approached by a man who stopped him and asked what he had on him.

The offender threatened to punch the victim before holding him by the arm and searching his trouser pockets and stealing his Blackberry 9520 Storm 2 mobile phone.

The man is black, aged between 17 and 19, 5ft 8ins, of stocky build and with afro-style hair.

He was wearing black, baggy Adidas tracksuit bottoms with red, yellow and green stripes down the legs and a black Adidas jumper with blue stripes on the arms and an Adidas logo on the left-side breast.

Police are appealing for anyone who was in the area or in nearby buildings to come forward if they witnessed the incident or have any information which may help with the investigation.

Police are particularly keen to speak to an elderly woman who was wearing a yellow jacket, walking ahead of the incident as she may be a key witness.

Anyone with any information, or who has been offered a Blackberry in the last week is urged to contact Det Con Wayne Watson at Milton Keynes police station via the 24-hour Police Enquiry Centre on 0845 8 505 505.

If you do not want to talk to the police, call the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Police marking plan can make bike safe

MAKE your bike safe this summer.

That's the messages from police who are offering bike marking across the city.

A Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) from Milton Keynes city centre and Campbell Park neighbourhood is offering the service across the city during National Bike Week which runs from Saturday across the UK.

PCSO Emily Kent will be available in various locations offering bike marking to cyclists to help protect their bicycle if it is stolen.

The bike marking will be available for £4 per bicycle.

PCSO Kent will be available at the following locations:

Wednesday 23 June

6.15am - 8.30am at Milton Keynes train station.

10am midday at Virgin Active HQ, Active House, 21 North Fourth Street, Central Milton Keynes

Thursday 24 June

5.30pm 7.30pm Milton Keynes train station.

PCSO Kent said: "National Bike Week, is a perfect opportunity to encourage cyclists to protect their bicycles with security marking.

"If their bike is stolen and then recovered, it can be returned to its owner. Bike marking also acts as a deterrent to any would-be thieves and prevents the bicycle from being stolen.

"I hope as many people as possible take advantage of this opportunity to protect their bicycle during National Bike Week.

■ For further information on bike marking, contact PCSO Kent at Midsummer Place police station via the 24-hour Police Enquiry Centre on 0845 8 505 505, or email her directly via Emily.Kent@thamesvalley.pnn.police.uk

REWARD: Staff and volunteers from the Milton Keynes Macmillan Unit cut their celebratory cake

Top honour is given to caring unit

BY DAVID GALE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A MILTON Keynes Hospital unit has been given a national award for its comfortable surroundings and caring staff.

The prestigious Macmillan Quality Environment Mark Award was presented to the Macmillan Oncology and Haematology Unit last Tuesday.

Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust was the first site to be awarded the quality mark.

Tony Halton, director of nursing, said: "We are delighted to receive this award, and my congratulations go to the staff and volunteers.

"We know that our patients really value this unit, with its comfortable surroundings, warm welcome and high quality of care.

"We also have an excellent team across the hospital making the process as smooth as possible for people with cancer, from diagnosis to treatment, and giving people the information and support they need along the way.

"This award is testament to their hard work."

The award recognises and rewards good practice and high standards within the physical environment of a cancer care building.

The assessment looks at

- Patient journey and accessibility (public transport, car parking facilities and the greeting received at the door)
- Best use of space for patient comfort and treatment
- Atmosphere and whether there is a homely feel to the environment and a garden. The natural light and decoration of rooms.
- Food and drink facilities for patients and partners
- Staff attitude and interaction with patients, for example, how staff take time to listen and understand the patient's perceptions and need for individual, dignified care Patient Dennis Turner, who attends the unit five days a week, explained: "The doctors are top rate and the treatment is excellent.

"When you come in they know your name and most of them know your case history, so they can just get on with things. It's great, it's like a big family."

For more information on the Macmillan Quality Environment Mark, see www.macmillan.org.uk/cancerenvironments

PRESENTATION TIME: Director of Nursing Tony Halton and Macmillan Unit Manager Alison Sandaver are given the Macmillan award by Ed Murphy, senior development manager for Macmillan Cancer Support

In the main arena you will be able to watch performers from all over the community including Irish dancing, street dancing, cheerleaders and local youth singing.

Dan Magness, World Record Football Juggler, will also be performing for the crowds as well as a gun dogs performance, harrier hawk display and ferret racing.

There is also a fun run in aid of charity.

The day starts at 1.30pm and runs until 5pm.

Mayor signs up for a tweet way of life

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE new Mayor of Milton Keynes has joined the world of Twitter.

Cllr Debbie Brock has become a regular tweeter on the social networking site in an attempt to allow people of Milton Keynes to become followers and keep up to date with all her latest news and ventures.

Cllr Brock hopes to embrace the new social networking phenomenon and encourage the younger residents of Milton Keynes to take an interest in community matters.

It is also hoped that it will provide a more convenient way for Twitter users to get in touch with the Mayor and express their views on the city.

She said: "I'm just about getting the hang of using Twitter and am really enjoying posting my tweets each day. It's such a fun and easy way to keep connected with everyone in Milton Keynes whilst I'm out and about. I'm really hoping to build up my followers over the next few months, as it's great to know what everyone else is up to as well."

Flower display to mark centenary

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

BROWNIES from Newport Pagnell are saying it with flowers.

Members of the 3rd and 4th Newport Pagnell Brownies have been chosen to create a Girlguiding UK Centenary inspired plant display for Hampton Court Flower Show.

Girlguiding UK and the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) have teamed up to give twenty-four groups of girls from around the UK the opportunity to design and create a display to celebrate Girlguiding UK's Centenary.

The designs have to be based around a recycled or reclaimed container that showcases the wide variety of objects that can be used to grow plants.

To celebrate the Girlguiding UK Centenary, the groups were also encouraged to show what the girls themselves say they enjoy most about being involved with guiding.

The Brownies' design will be seen by around 160,000 visitors from the 6-11 July 2010.

The design from the 3rd and 4th Newport Pagnell Brownies 'Skip Skip Skip to our 100 years' uses a toilet and wash basin planted with blue, pink and yellow flowers including French marigolds, fuchsias and petunias as well as decorating the toilet with bunting and the wash basin with a flannel.

When developing their design, the Brownies took their inspiration from Leader Susan Jenkinson, known to the Brownies as Snowy Owl. The Brownies remembered that Snowy Owl's husband had a plumbing and central heating business and this gave them the idea to use a cistern, toilet and a wash basin.

Susan said: "Many years ago I had used a toilet as a planted container in my lounge, so knew it was possible.

"We then thought about creating a '100' to represent Girlguiding UK's Centenary and we thought cistern could be the number one, the toilet the first zero and the wash basin the second zero."

The 3rd and 4th Newport Pagnell Brownies submitted their design to Girlguiding UK and the RHS at the beginning of the year and were told of their success at the end of March.

The group has already started to grow its plants at Brownies since Easter.

In addition to the 'recycled container' designs that will be displayed throughout the show ground, Girlguiding UK will have a central show garden that celebrates the Centenary and represents the modern, girl-led ethos of the organisation.

It's not always good to talk...

A GROUP of teenagers chatted to two men before snatching their mobile phone.

It happened on Saturday, June 5, at 11.50pm, as the two men walked along the redway on Springfield by The Springfield public house. They were approached by a group of teenagers who surrounded them.

In an attempt to make themselves safe they sat on the wall to the front of the pub.

As one of the men used his mobile phone to call for a taxi one of the group snatched it and they ran off across the bridge to Fishermead.

Witnesses can contact police on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

It's up and away as centre opens

THREE toddlers have been given the special job of officially opening a brand new Sure Start Children's Centre.

The centre at Christ the Sower School in Grange Farm is part of a £650k project that involved an extension of the school hall and community facilities.

Zane, Nicholas, Euan and their childminder Angela Hamilton unveiled a plaque outside the children's centre shortly after a whole school assembly celebrated the school's sixth anniversary just before half term.

425 red and gold balloons, one for every pupil at the school, were also released as part of a balloon race to mark the occasion.

The first balloon was reported as found on the south coast the following the morning.

The children's centre and extension project has been made possible thanks to funding from Oxford Diocese and Milton Keynes Council.

Headteacher Anne Hamilton said: "We are delighted at Christ the Sower to be able to have these new facilities which will benefit the children in our school and the wider community for years to come. We have a super new hall for PE, dance, collective worship times, lunchtimes and 'Cherry Hall' is also used daily by 'Allsorts,' our after school and breakfast club.

"We hope that the community will be able to make good use of this for events, beavers, scouts, children's parties etc in the future. The close links with the children's centre will be of great benefit to the community and we are enjoying working in partnership with the Sure Start team to help provide services that our community needs."

Childminder Angela Hamilton has been involved in the development of the children's centre and was delighted to be asked to officially open it along with the children.

She said: "As a childminder it's really useful to have somewhere to go to share learning and advice with fellow childminders.

"I'm also a mum so it's great to have somewhere to go to spend time with my son and take part in the many activities available so that we develop together.

"I hope as many families as possible from the Grange Farm area will pay the centre a visit."

Balloons are released to mark the offical opening of Christ the Sower

Cops rewarded for community spirit

BY DAVID GALE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

COMMUNITY officers from the city have been praised for their work.

Thames Valley Police has announced its community officers of the year.

PC Jason Rowe was awarded the Milton Keynes community police officer of the year for his continued support and assistance with partner agencies and local businesses, and for his ongoing work in the community to tackle the neighbourhood priorities.

He has built up trust and respect among residents, partner agencies and local businesses.

Jason assisted Willen Hospice for their MK Midnight Moo events through many aspects to ensure the safety of the participants and assists with other events the Hospice run throughout the year.

He has also provided ongoing support for the Hospice by forming a responsive and supportive advice service not only for the patients and their relatives but also the staff.

Leanne Bircham, Director of Nursing and Patient Services at Willen Hospice, who nominated Jason, said: "The relationship that Willen Hospice has with Jason is that of solid reliability, in short, he is our rock.

"He responds within minutes and conveys a quiet, calm approach to whatever the situation we are dealing with not only specialist advice but also support."

Police Community Support Officer (PCSO) Trevor Pattison has been awarded the PCSO of the year in Milton Keynes for an initiative he has launched to help tackle anti-social behaviour and provide a facility for the community to come together.

The award also recognises the strong community relationships he has built with the residents, local children, partner agencies and local businesses.

Trevor set up Respect, a table tennis club where the emphasis is on respecting opponents, people's property and respecting yourself.

The club meets twice a week with around 40 people of all ages and 80 per cent are local residents.

Trevor has successfully bid for funding through Thames Valley Police and Stony Stratford Town Council in order to keep costs to a minimum as well as providing additional equipment.

Due to the success of the club, Trevor is now working to set up a Respect club at Radcliffe School in Wolverton.

Trevor has also been commended for his contribution to the community, his excellent professional working relationship and for his regular patrols and presence on the neighbourhood, for which he is well known and well liked by the community he serves, regardless of the age.

Assistant chief superintendent Nikki Ross, Milton Keynes Commander, said: "Both Jason and Trevor should feel very proud of their achievements and the excellent relationships they have built with the people in their neighbourhood.

"All our community officers and PCSOs work very hard to make a difference in their neighbourhood, proactively tackling their local neighbourhood priorities and its great when this work is recognised."

It's time to discover all about ladybirds

BY DAVID GALE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

PEOPLE from Milton Keynes are being invited to take part in a survey all about one of the gardener's best friends.

Wyevale Woburn Sands Garden Centre on Newport Road in Woburn Sands is encouraging visitors to participate in a ladybird survey as part of its Insect and Wildlife Week, which runs from Monday, June 21 until Sunday, June 27.

Assistant manager, Martin Gentry said: "We are supporting the Centre for Ecology & Hydrology (CEH) UK Ladybird Survey as part of our Insect and Wildlife Week, which ties in with National Insect Week, because ladybirds are very important for gardeners.

"Most ladybirds are predators, eating aphids, scale insects and other sap-sucking insects, which is why they are so popular with gardeners."

The CEH UK Ladybird Survey asks people to look for live ladybirds not just outside in gardens, parks or woodland, but indoors too.

The survey aims to study ladybirds by building up a long-term view of where and how they live.

The CEH began monitoring ladybirds in the 1960s and has been inviting the public to take part online since 2005.

BBC Breathing Places is supporting the survey and people can visit www.bbc.co.uk/breathing places/ladybird-survey to submit their results, as well as download an illustrated guide to 26 ladybird species, a ladybird identification and recording sheet and a guide to photographing small creatures.

During the Insect and Wildlife Week, the garden centre will be helping visitors to encourage friendly bugs and beasts into their gardens.

Staff will be handing out complimentary children's activity sheets and offering free advice. There will be a selection of 'bee-friendly' products and plants for visitors to see.

People will also be able to take home a 'How to attract insects into your garden' leaflet, while stocks last.

Getting to know the real Africa

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A GROUP has been awarded money to spread the word about African culture.

City-based 'Awake To Know Africa' has been given an Awards for All grant from the Lottery Fund to expand its work in schools, children's centres and with community organisations.

Its aim is to promote cultural diversity, cohesion and better cultural awareness using African themes.

Awake to Know Africa's workshops use art, drama, music, storytelling and costuming sourced from Africa to stimulate young children to think about their different cultural backgrounds.

Project director Vicky Mensah said: "Children pick up a lot of what they know about other cultures from the people around them and this can often include stereotypes of Africa as a continent of strife and starvation.

"Through our workshops children learn that Africa has a rich diversity of culture and tradition and through this we also explore their individual cultural backgrounds.

"This is increasingly important as children in Milton Keynes are coming from an ever growing number of countries."

So far Awake to Know Africa workshops will be running in eight local schools and invitations are out with several others.

It is also planning a series of summer community events with Campbell Park Parish Council and Woughton Community Council which include African drumming and taking part in the carnival.

Family cycle turns sour when dad is assaulted

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man was assaulted in front of his 12-year-old son as they were out cycling.

The incident happened at about 1.45pm on Friday, June 4 as the victim and his son were cycling along the canal towpath near to Hammond Crescent, Willen Park.

A family with three small children were cycling towards them and the victim's son and one of the children collided, causing them both to fall off their bikes.

The offender, who is believed to be the father of the other child involved, became abusive and threatening towards the victim's son.

The victim asked him to calm down and the offender pushed him to the floor and kicked him in the leg before picking up the victim's bike and throwing it on the floor damaging the wheel.

The offender then left with his family towards Springfield along the canal.

The offender is white, in his mid thirties, 5ft 10ins, muscular with lots of tattoos on his upper arms and chest. He had short dark shaved hair and a piercing in his lip.

He had tanned skin and was not wearing a top. He also stated to the victim that he was well known to police and was called James.

Police would like to hear from anyone who witnessed the incident or may know the identity of the offender.

If you have any information about this incident, contact PC Andy Pearce at Milton Keynes police station via the 24-hour non-emergency number, 0845 8 505 505.

If you do not want to speak to the police, call the Crimestoppers charity anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Mayor opens family day

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

FAMILIES with children who have additional needs came together at a special event.

Held by Children and Young People's Services at Milton Keynes Council last week, the family information day was held at the Chrysalis Theatre and provided information about services and activities available locally for families.

The day was made up of two sessions. The morning's events were opened by the Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Debbie Brock, and the afternoon session sprung into action with a demonstration by SNUGS gymnastic group who are a group of you people with special needs. They were supported by the Equinox Cheerleading Squad who are based in Milton Keynes.

Exhibitors at the event included Oasis Play Scheme, Families Information Service, Aiming High, Parent Partnership and other services who wanted to highlight how children with disabilities are able to join in mainstream activities.

Charlotte Davies, Aiming High for Disabled Children Commissioner, said: "We wanted to provide practical information about what activities children with disabilities could get involved with in the local area. We are pleased to be joined by so many families today who we hope will find this information valuable."

The event was made possible thanks to a grant from the Department for Education's Aiming High for Disabled Children funding. For more information about the Aiming High programme visit www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/aiming-high

Show you 'have a heart' and become a volunteer

A CHARITY is urging residents to have a heart and donate their time.

The British Heart Foundation (BHF) launched its Hand on Heart volunteer recruitment campaign last week.

Last year 5,000 people came forward and this year the BHF aims to recruit 7,500 volunteers.

Volunteers play a vital role in the work of the BHF and their dedication helps save and improve the lives of those affected by heart disease, raising £25 million in one year.

A volunteer who raises £100 by shaking a collection tin, could help to fund a cardiac nurse working on the BHF Heart Helpline for a full day.

Ben Ansell fundraising and volunteer manager for the BHF in Buckinghamshire says: "Volunteers are essential to the work of the BHF and this year, we are hoping to recruit 100 volunteers in this area. Without your help, we would not be able to save lives through pioneering heart research, provide care for patients through our network of nurses and Heart HelpLine or provide valuable education on health and lifestyle."

For more information about volunteering for the nation's heart charity email volunteer@bhf.org.uk or call 0300 4568353.

Music-making trio hit the right notes

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@mk-news.co.uk

ON KEY: The three students who gained the medals

THREE Milton Keynes Music Service pupils have become the first in the city to be awarded a medal for keyboard playing.

The Walnuts School specialises in pupils with Autistic Spectrum Disorder (ASD) so the Music Service decided to take advantage of the flexible and less formal examination approach offered by the Music Medals scheme.

Achieving a nationally recognised qualification is a major achievement for these pupils.

MK Music Service keyboard teacher Jonathan Harris has been working with Joel, 15 and Thomas, 12, for nearly two years and Shaan, 13, for under a year.

They attained the Silver, Bronze and Copper medals respectively.

He said: "Milton Keynes Music Service encourages its teachers to support all pupils across Milton Keynes with their music making. Achievements such as this really highlight the benefits music tuition can bring to children, particularly in developing self-esteem and confidence".

The school organised an achievement assembly especially for the pupils. Music teacher Lynne Gound said: "It means so much to the school, pupils and parents."

David Rose, head of the Service, said: "It is wonderful to see the range of success achieved through the work of the Music Service from our Youth Orchestra reaching the national Youth Music finals to these individuals achieving their Music Medals."

Find out more about flexible working hours

DISCOVER how you can have a more flexible working life.

The Flexible Working Campaign was launched a year ago by MK Women & Work Group, when it was discovered that there were fewer part-time jobs in Milton Keynes than the national average. Now the campaign has gained momentum with the support of MK Council who promoted the flexible working benefits to local businesses via their business rates mailshot.

The campaign will continue with a workshop on Flexible Working on Thursday at Acorn House at 6.30pm.

SIMON DARNELL

SHOUT
Shout For England featuring Dizzee Rascal and James Corden

THE first time I heard this, I was horrified. However, to my immense surprise, I've found that this song actually gets better the more you hear it, but then it had to.

Time for another 'however' though, and here it comes.

HOWEVER.

Whilst there's a lot of things that work, there are a few that really, really don't.

First of all, the tune. Whoever had the bright idea of glueing Blackstreet's No Diggity and Tears For Fears's Shout together, well done, pat yourself on the back because it works a treat and if the lyrics weren't football-related (which reduces the shelf-life hugely) then I could see this sitting in the Top 40 until November.

Next up, Dizzee Rascal. His rap may not be particularly original and it may well have been written in half an hour like he himself claims, but at least he sounds like he knows something about a) the England players and b) football in general.

Finally, James Corden. He doesn't do his 'look at me, I'm funny I am' act, he just comes in, sings the chorus and that's it.

Basically, both Messrs Rascal and Corden do their job and do it well.

Now then, the bits that don't work, at least for me. Well, to start with, it's a football song, we know it's a football song, it's blinking obvious it's a football song, so why ram that fact down our throats even further by laying crowd chants and Martin Tyler's commentary over the top?

I blame World In Motion for this trend.

Next, there's the use of Shout. The tune is fine, I've got no problem with that, but the lyrics are unchanged, so we now have James Corden and friends singing 'These are the things I can do without' without actually saying what it is that vexes them so.

If that's an oversight, we then have the repeated refrain of 'Come and have a go if you think you're hard enough' which is just careless.

Somebody REALLY wasn't thinking there. Might just as well have them singing 'You're going home in a [EXPLETIVE] ambulance', eh?

All in all then, the good narrowly outweighs the bad, which is no mean feat given how terrible most football songs are. The fact that it's as good as it is is probably the biggest shock of all.

WITNESS FOR THE PROSECUTION

Until Sunday

YOU can expect a thrilling night of crime as the Agatha Christie Theatre Company presents the Queen of Crime's undisputed masterpiece Witness for the Prosecution.

Emily French, an elderly woman who recently left her considerable estate to the charming young Leonard, is found dead. Murdered.

Though he protests his innocence, Leonard quickly becomes the prime suspect. His plea hinges on his wife's testimony, until the sudden appearance of a mysterious young woman, bearing an unexpected clue.

Will the truth be revealed in time or will Leonard be declared guilty at the hands of the Witness for the Prosecution?

In a world where everyone seems to be harbouring a dark secret, this gripping courtroom drama will keep you guessing until the final fatal moment.

Leading this tour de force cast is Denis Lill (star of the highly acclaimed series, The Royal), Ben Nealon (Soldier, Soldier), and Robert Duncan who played Gus Hedges in the multi-award-winning comedy Drop the Dead Donkey.

OKLAHOMA!

June 29-July 3

WEST End and international musical theatre star Marti Webb and runner-up in the BBC's Your Country Needs You Mark Evans will headline a brand new tour of Rodgers & Hammerstein's Oklahoma! one of the most popular and enduring musicals in history.

Set on America's Western Frontier, against a background of conflict between farmers and cattlemen, Oklahoma! perfectly integrates song, dance and story to tell the tale of farm girl Laurey and the two rivals for her affections, cowboy Curly and the sinister farmhand Jud.

Famously, Oklahoma! opens with Oh, What a Beautiful Mornin' and contains a sumptuous and rousing score full of wonderful songs, such as The Surrey with the Fringe on Top, People Will Say We're in Love, Many a New Day, I Cain't Say No, and the final rousing chorus of Oklahoma.

MUSIC IN THE GARDEN

Sir John Dankworth

THE Stables is once again inviting you into its garden for a fantastic season of music.

The annual Music in the Garden event is now in its tenth year and takes place between June 19 and July 17.

This year the event is more poignant than ever following the death in February of Sir John Dankworth.

His wife Dame Cleo Laine is certain the garden shows will still be a magical experience.

As part of the programme there will be a special show on Sunday, July 10 called It's a Family Affair where Cleo will be joined by her family and friends to play tribute to Sir John.

Cleo said: "We the family are resolved to keep alive his dreams and perpetuate his love of music, great musicians and lots of fun and laughter.

"As part of the 2010's Music in the Garden programme Alec, Jaqui, Emily and I, along with our best friends, are going to put on atribute concert - new, musically exciting, adventurous and interesting.

"Of course there are other great performances for you to come and devour, sending you home with memories of the creative powers of jazz musicians and wonderful artistry in every musical genre."

PARK LIFE

Get healthy and happy outdoors

RESEARCHERs at the University of Essex have found that exercising in a natural outdoor setting can create an almost instant and measurable increase in a person's mood or self-esteem.

Milton Keynes is a great place to discover whether this is true as our abundance of parks and green spaces give us many opportunities to get healthy and be happy outdoors.

The research showed that exercising in a green environment for as little as five minutes was enough to give people the feel-good factor, and the physical benefits from exercise.

It also found that whilst all natural environments are beneficial, when combined with the presence of water the positive effects on people are even greater.

So there's really no excuse for staying indoors when you could be reaping the health benefits of enjoying the parks and waterways in Milton Keynes.

Walking is one of the best ways to experience these parks and it can be great for your health.

The subtle shifts in balance required for walking on grass or earth mean that you can get a more challenging workout than by walking on flat pavements and there's the bonus of enjoying an ever changing backdrop of beautiful parkland scenery too.

Whether you want to take an impromptu walk with friends or family or to discover some new walking routes and meet new people, The Parks Trust has a range of options you can try.

These include self-guided walks, health walks led by qualified walk leaders, 'push your buggy and tone your body' sessions for mums with babies, a Women's Walking Network and even a series of 'Waggy Walks' for our canine companions. In fact our Waggy Walks have proved so popular that we've added a 'puppy power' and an additional fitness walk to the monthly programme.

For those who might want a brisker pace on the road to fitness, The Parks Trust also has a monthly 'Parks and Run' programme of free, waymarked fun runs from 2 to 10 kms for all ages and abilities.

The next run is on Sunday, July 4 at Broughton from 10am to 12pm, meet at the car park by the Broughton Fields School.

Cycling is another great way to enjoy the parks and is one of the simplest and most effective ways of keeping fit.

By taking a bike ride around one of the city's Heritage Cycle Trails you can improve your fitness and discover interesting things about Milton Keynes' evolution at the same time.

And if all this seems too strenuous why not try visiting the parks during your lunch break, catching up with friends or just taking in the scenery from a park bench?

The very act of being outdoors, breathing fresh air and being closer to nature is enough to give you a real boost and set you up for the rest of the day.

To find out more about how you can keep healthy and happy in the parks please contact The Parks Trust on 01908 233600 or visit www.theparkstrust.com

COMPUTER FEST

VINTAGE COMPUTER FESTIVAL

Saturday and Sunday, June 19-20

Chip-tune music, retro design, a big name from 1980s and a challenge with a 1960s computer are the latest additions to the programme for Britain's first Vintage Computer Festival at The National Museum of Computing (TNMOC) at Bletchley Park.

Originating a decade ago in California's Silicon Valley, Vintage Computing Festivals (VFC) are now regular events in the USA and in Germany.

The event at TNMOC will be the first in the UK and is open to the general public.

VCF organiser Simon Hewitt of TNMOC said: "Interest continues to exceed our expectations and it's clear that this is no longer just being seen as a Great Geek Day Out. It's definitely one for even the slightly techi family.

"We recommend that people come early on both days as they are going to have lots to see, hear and get their interactive fingers on.

"The latest additions are Matthew Applegate / Pixelh8 who will be giving a presentation about 'Obsolete?' his musical composition that uses TNMOC computers as musical instruments, Dragon Computers from the 1980s micro-revolution, and retro-aesthetic designers Big Dog Interactive.

There will also be a special computer challenge, allowing visitors to pit their wits against an Elliott computer from the 1960s."

Tickets for the entire weekend £10. Free to TNMOC individual members.

MK BUSINESS

MK Dons' new talent makes sponsors proud

AS the latest home-grown, home-town boy to step out at stadiummk, MK Dons youngster Adam Chicksen has given a glimpse of his prodigious talents in recent months.

And few can be prouder of the 18-year-old's achievements than local firm Purcell Solicitors, Adam's player sponsor since he made his first team breakthrough earlier this season.

Having made his first team debut at Leicester City's daunting Walkers' Stadium at the tender age of 16, left-sided Adam has seen his exciting progress closely monitored by Dons supporters ever since.

After impressing hugely during his two-year apprenticeship in the MK Dons Academy, he was awarded his first professional contract in March when he signed a two-year deal. Adam made his full stadiummk debut just a week later against Charlton Athletic and went on to play a significant part in the Dons' final six games of the League 1 season.

Having seen Adam's promising rise through the Club's youth ranks, stadiummk regulars Purcell jumped at the chance to put their support behind a local player, nurtured through the Club's Academy system and now flourishing in front of the very supporters he grew up amongst.

Pauline Purcell from Purcell Solicitors said: "As a local, family-run firm of solicitors, we are delighted to sponsor Milton Keynes-born Adam for the foreseeable future, and wish him every success in his career.

"We are delighted to have linked up with the MK Dons in a number of areas this season as we have been impressed at the impact the Dons have had in the community since coming to Milton Keynes.

"They provide not only a top level football team, but they have a strong commitment to the community which can be seen in the work undertaken by the MK Dons Sport and Education Trust.

"At Purcell's we share this community vision and therefore are keen to support the Dons in their endeavours. We look forward to building upon our new relationship over the coming months and years."

Business centre evening struck the right note

MILTON KEYNES Business Centre always likes to go that little bit further and welcomes new and different ideas.

Plans for an evening concert by the up-and-coming band The Floe brought an enthusiastic response from tenants and the opportunity for business networking with a difference.

Centre Manager Lynn Patey-Smith said Centre businesses had welcomed the chance to get together on an informal basis.

She said: "This was an opportunity to meet and chat and also listen to some very good music.

I think everyone enjoyed themselves and we certainly would like to hold other evenings like this."

The Floe with Sarah Springett (lead vocals), David Booth (guitar and vocals), and Liz Townsend (keys and vocals) were on a tour following the release of their debut album 'No Looking Back'.

Their straightforward melodic rock – think Dido and you are in the right area – was enjoyed by all.

Amplification flagship store

David Booth and Ronnie Orme from Rock Hard Music

A LEADING local music store and recording studio has announced that Marshall Amplification plc has appointed Wolverton's Rock Hard Music as its new flagship retail store for all Marshall products and services in the area.

The world's best-selling amplification brand based in Bletchley has not had a main dealership in the city for a number of years so this represents a great opportunity for local musicians and fans of Marshall to try out all the latest products, as well as the classic models, that have made Marshall one of the world's most iconic manufacturers of electric guitar and bass amplifiers.

Marshall's managing director John Ellery, was determined to find a store that could showcase the full range of products and services with the right attitude, environment and ongoing commitment to customer service and satisfaction.

"Rock Hard Music was the obvious choice for us" said John "It is a fantastic store with experienced staff and is run by musicians for musicians.

Local music shop 'delighted' to have been selected

"The studio and rehearsal facilities also enable customers to try out our products at proper stage volumes.

"We are looking forward to a very rewarding working partnership."

Co-owner of Rock Hard Music Ronnie Orme agrees: "It's a huge honour to be working in partnership with Marshall Amplifiers and stocking their full range of products.

"We are not only huge fans of Marshall's Amps but also admire and appreciate what Jim Marshall and his company have done for the British music industry, as well as the promotional and charitable work he has done for the local community.

"It has been our aspiration since opening the store, just over two years ago, to become the local dealer for Marshall and we are delighted be chosen as the flagship store. And, as always, we will endeavour to support local musicians and businesses as much as possible."

The 'Grand Opening' of the new Marshall dealership at Rock Hard Music in Canons Road, Old Wolverton is on Saturday at 11am.

Industry legend Dr Jim Marshall OBE will be there to meet customers and thier will also be an opportunity to meet renowned international guitarist and official Marshall Demonstrator Chris George, who will be demonstrating some of the latest equipment in the studio from 12 noon.

There will also be some fantastic 'one off' special offers on selected Marshall products throughout the weekend and they recomend that you get there early to avoid disappointment.

Public Notices

NOTICE OF DECISION
STANDARDS (HEARING) SUB-COMMITTEE
CENTRAL BEDFORDSHIRE COUNCIL
Priory House, Monks Walk, Chicksands, Shefford, Bedfordshire SG17 5TQ

Central Bedfordshire

Notice is hereby given of a decision of the Standards (Hearing) Sub-Committee of Central Bedfordshire Council, following a complaint made against Cllr Adam Fahn of Leighton Linslade Town Council.

The Decision
The Standards (Hearing) Sub-Committee found Cllr Fahn had failed to follow the Leighton Linslade Town Council Code of Conduct, in the following respect:
- Two breaches of paragraph 3(1) of the Leighton Linslade Town Council Code of Conduct, by failing to treat others with respect;
- Two breaches of paragraph 3(2)(b) of the Leighton Linslade Town Council Code of Conduct, by bullying two individuals;
- A breach of paragraph 5 of the Leighton Linslade Town Council Code of Conduct, by bringing the office of a Town Councillor into disrepute.

Sanction
Cllr Fahn was suspended from his role as Town Councillor for Leighton Linslade Town Council for a period of two months beginning on Thursday 27 May 2010.

Reasons for Decision
1. Inappropriate verbal and physical behaviour had been used against two individuals which amounted to the failure of Cllr Fahn to treat the individuals with respect.
2. Furthermore, the inappropriate language and behaviour used against the individuals amounted to bullying.
3. The breaches were exacerbated given the age of the individuals against whom the behaviour was perpetrated.
4. That the behaviour being perpetrated in a public place would, in the mind of a reasonable person, lower the opinion held of the Town Council.

Right of Appeal
The Subject Member has the right of appeal against the decision and may apply in writing to the President of the Adjudication Panel for England for permission to appeal against the finding.

Deputy Monitoring Officer. - 11 June 2010.

Richard Green

Rider gets Green light to fulfil MotoGP dream

MOTOR RACING

A RACER from Milton Keynes will complete a lifetime ambition this weekend when he races at the MotoGP.

Grafton Honda's Richard Green is set to star at Silverstone on the same track as the world's greatest motorbike riders when the British National Superstock series acts as a support race to the British round of the MotoGP.

The Northamptonshire track won the rights to the event from Donington last year.

And although Green will be competing in the Superstock series rather than the premier class of motorbike racing, he is still delighted to be involved.

But the Hanslope rider admits he, like many others at Silverstone, is disappointed that reigning MotoGP champion Valentino Rossi wont be there after breaking his leg at Muggello two weeks ago.

Green told MK NEWS: "I can't wait to get on the track, the fact that there will be thousands of fans watching spurs me on because I love performing in front of a crowd.

"It's going to be a momentous occasion. It's a life time ambition to race at the MotoGP the fact that it's in a different class doesn't matter.

"I'm just a bit gutted that Valentino Rossi has broken his leg – I thought this was going to be my chance to see him ride.

"The man has done so much for the sport he's made it mainstream and watchable for non-riders."

Milton Keynes-based Grafton Honda are in for a difficult few days though, as their engine is still not up to scratch and they have not been able to fine tune it to get more horse power – the team are at least 15 horsepower behind the BMW bikes – due to the time restrictions between rounds.

And with a double round – with a race on Saturday and Sunday – the 2010 Honda CBR1000RR's engine's lack of power is expected to be exposed.

So once Silverstone is done and dusted the Grafton team are considering missing the race at Knockhill to make the engine more competitive.

Green added: "I tested on the new Arena GP track at Silverstone on Thursday, it's very fast and has a lot of sweeping corners. So if nothing else I'll enjoy it."

BASKETBALL

AN MK Lions legend has been named head coach for the 2010/11 British Basketball season.

Former power forward/centre Mike New will take over the reigns at the Lions, replacing Vince macaulay who stepped down last month but remains chief executive of the Middleton Hall-based team.

New, a graduate of New Mexico State University, will enter his sixth year with the Lions, having played in Milton Keynes during the 2002-03 season, and for the past four years.

macaulay was delighted to appoint New, 42, as his head coach, saying: "Mike is a model professional.

"He only knows how to give 100 per cent in whatever he does, as director of the MK College Lions academy he has already won the British Elite Cup, as coach of our under-16s national league side he has won the National Championship twice in the last three seasons."

New retired from playing at the end of the 2009/10 campaign and was the clear favourite to take over once Macaulay had indicated he was stepping down.

Macaulay added: "Mike knows what we are about as a club, he buys into our systems and has helped in many areas of the club.

"It was him who knocked down the two free throws that clinched us the BBL Cup in 2008 so he is already a legend with many of our fans."

Lions chairman, Christine Thompson was also happy with the appointment.

She said: "We had many applications for this post but as our club develops it's own identity we were very comfortable with Mike and his inside knowledge gave him an edge."

Is Rae on the road to Killie?

BY SIMONE CORGAN

MK Dons could be on the verge of losing first team coach Alex Rae.

The former Rangers and Wolverhampton Wanderers midfielder has been linked to the managerial vacancy with Kilmarnock.

The Scottish Premier League outfit, who finished last season just two points clear of relegation, have been without a boss since Jimmy Calderwood quit the club last month due to 'financial constraints.

Rae, 40, is thought to have spoken with Killie chairman Michael Johnson who has also held talks with Cologne coach Thomas Hassler.

And it comes as no surprise to Dons boss Karl Robinson that the Rugby Park officials are interested in Rae.

"People are always going want the staff I've got," Robinson told MK NEWS.

"I've always said whether people move on or they stay with you, you always make sure that you keep your core values and my sole aim is to take this football club forward.

"To be honest, if something did come up and he got offered a job up there I think it would be awfully hard to turn the Scottish Premier League down.

"Alex Rae is a whole hearted man and he won't make a snap decision. If something does or doesn't happen we'll move on accordingly.

"If Alex Rae went I'd get someone else in as good, if he stays he'll become a better coach working under me and John Gorman so the football club's on a win-win whatever happens."

ON HIS WAY?: Alex Rae is believed to have had talks with Kilmarnock as the Scottish club search for a new boss

CRICKET

Singh the showstopper with five wicket haul as leaders crush Bray

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES
Division One
NEW Bradwell are flying high at the top of the table, 48 points clear of second placed Cublington.

The league leaders stretched their advantage at the summit with a 56 run win over Eaton Bray.

Faheem Aftab (48) and Temoor Alam (38) helped New Bradwell set a target of 191-9 for Eaton Bray to chase.

But the bowling of Harry Singh (5-21) caused problems for the Bray line-up and they were dismissed for 137.

Cublington gave Studham a lesson in cricket with a crushing 232 run victory.

After reaching 262-7 and Jamie Leggett top scoring with 56, Cublington destroyed the Studham attack by bowling them out for just 30 runs.

Michael Westland was the undeniable star of the show with 7-10.

North Crawley are third after beating Aspley Guise by seven wickets.

Aspley went in to bat first and reached 124 thanks to Simon Smithers top scoring with 40.

But North Crawley were too strong for Aspley as Mick Howe (48 not out) and Mat Goss (45 not out) led them to a comfortable win.

Division Two
Another dominant performance from Milton Keynes kept them at the top of the table.

They ended their innings on 263-7 before dismissing Milton Bryan for 97, earning MK a 166 run win which moves them 13 points clear at the top.

Second placed Cranfield University (179-6) had to settle for a winning draw as they were unable to bowl out Old Bradwell (178-9).

Olney Town took 30 points from their 93 run win over Buckland & Aston Clinton.

Olney set a total of 149 but Buckland struggled to a lowly score of just 56 in reply. Anton De Beer's unbeaten 94 was not enough to earn Shenley Church End victory as they claimed a winning draw over local rivals New City (Milton Keynes).

Shenley reached 229-5 in their overs but they were unable to claim all ten wickets they needed from New City (164-9).

Division Three
New Bradwell piled on the misery for bottom of the table Drayton Parslow by inflicting a 67 run defeat on them and in racking up (258-6) they were led to victory by Allen Bridgeman's 103, while bowler Jamie Abbott who claimed 4-39, helped bowl out Drayton Parslow for 191.

Willen's lead at the top was cut to six points after losing by six wickets to Cublington. The league leaders were dismissed for 160 and Cublington were able to reach 161 losing four wickets in the process.

Milton Keynes City (280-9) claimed a winning draw with Open University (235-4) and remain second from bottom.

Stoke Hammond (96 all out) were well beaten by Eggington Foresters (160-9).

CHERWELL LEAGUE
Division One
Bletchley Town celebrated their first win of the season with a two wicket win against high-flying Cumnor.

The visitors went in to bat first and started comfortably but only five batsmen registered double figures and they were dismissed for 147.

In reply Graham Simpson (27) gave Bletchley a good start but it was James Sprittles' 42 that helped them to victory.

Seb and co suffer in title fast lane

SEBASTIAN Vettel insists he is not panicking despite falling further behind in the World Championship chase.

Both Vettel and Mark Webber were unable to find a place on the podium at the Canadian Grand Prix.

Instead McLaren clinched a one-two with Lewis Hamilton and Jenson Button. Ferrari's Fernando Alonso claimed third place leaving Vettel and Webber in fourth and fifth respectively.

The result saw Webber fall from the top of the drivers' standing to third, allowing Hamilton move in to the lead and Button in to second place.

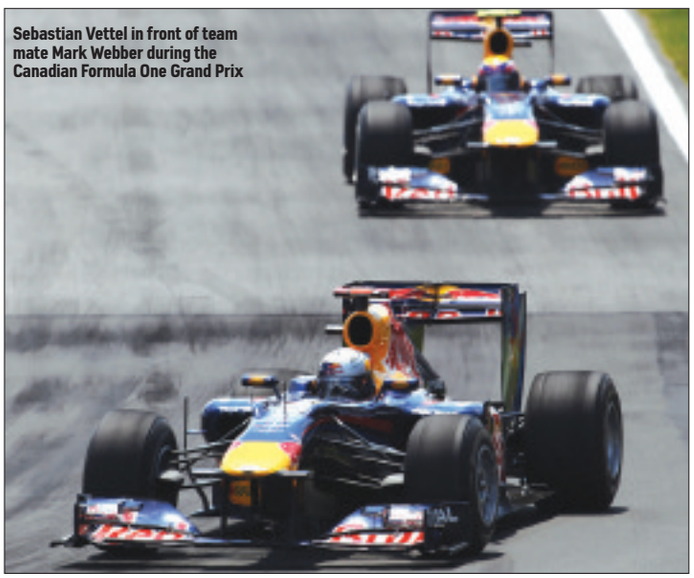
Vettel trails Hamilton by 19 points in fifth place, but on the back of the race at Montreal, where the Red Bulls were never expected to shine, the German driver believes they can get their season back on track.

He said: "I had a gearbox problem from around halfway through the race, which meant I had to slow down. Also, due to lapped cars, I lost six seconds to Jenson in two laps, so I was unable to fight for the podium. But, it's good that we got these final positions. Coming into the weekend we were not the favourites, but actually we had very good pace and we surprised some people with that.

"We couldn't really show our real pace during the race, due to the way it unfolded, but it's promising.

"It's a close battle at the top of the table and, as we have seen, things can change very quickly.

"There is no reason to panic from our side, we have a very good car and we're looking ahead to Valencia."



Sebastian Vettel in front of team mate Mark Webber during the Canadian Formula One Grand Prix

At one stage Vettel, who started in second, led the race but he quickly fell away after a pit stop and his mechanical problem.

Webber had qualified in second but had to drop to seventh on the grid following a gear box change, and even though he lost his grip on the World Championship leaderboard the Aussie remained upbeat. He said: "We expected this to be a tough event and in the end we were closer than we thought. I wanted to get some champagne today, it didn't happen, but we'll be back."

With the McLarens on the podium Red Bull also lost the leadership of the constructors' championship, falling 23 points behind McLaren.

Robbo on the job during his nuptials

KARL Robinson will take a two-hour break from his honeymoon tomorrow to find out who his MK Dons side will face on the opening day of the season.

The football fixtures for the 2010/11 campaign are announced at 9am, but the Dons boss is on a romantic break with his wife Anne Marie Davies after the couple married last Saturday.

However, Robinson says he will switch on his Blackberry for a few hours a day to check e-mails, voicemails and keep up-to-date with all club matters.

Speaking exclusively to MK NEWS, Robinson said: "I've been told that I'm not allowed my phone on 24/7.

"I'm going to turn it on for two hours a day and I'll get all my work done in those two hours.

"I've been working all hours and it's not fair on my family. I'll turn it off for most of the day – I'm scared of missing a better player than I've already got.

"I've got a very important job to do here, and I take it very seriously and my wife understands that and respects the job that I do."

The one team Robinson will be looking out for is local rivals Peterborough United.

The fiery derby was absent last season but with Posh relegated back to League One it is back on the cards and Robinson has fond memories from 2007.

Another sign that the start of a new campaign is upon us came in the form of the Dons unveiling their new look kit.

After switching from Nike to Australian manufacturer company ISC the Dons showed off their three kits (above) at a ticket-only event at the red dot bar last week.

■LOG on to www.mk-news.co.uk today for the Carling Cup draw and 9am tomorrow for MK Dons' fixture list.

Cash for Trash – find out if we're coming to your area

To celebrate three years of Cash for Trash, the council's incentive scheme rewarding residents who recycle, we will now be letting residents know one of the two areas we will be visiting each week. While this won't increase the odds, we hope it will provide an added incentive to the residents of the area listed to make sure they are recycling correctly to be in with a chance of winning £100.

Every Friday we will list one area we will be visiting during the following week on our website - www.miltonkeynes.gov.uk/cashfortrash.
If your area is listed, you will know there's a stronger chance that your address has been chosen at random by computer to be our £100 winner – all you have to do is to make sure your recycling is sorted correctly and is left out on your property boundary by 7am.

Of course, we will still be visiting a second secret location anywhere in the Milton Keynes Council area each week, so please make sure you are recycling the right materials to be in with a chance of winning. If you pile up your bags with your neighbours, we won't know which bags belong to which property so you won't be able to win.
Since it began in June 2007, Cash for Trash has given away in the region of £25,000 to lucky residents recycling the correct materials in their pink sacks, blue boxes and food and garden waste bins. Don't forget you can now put aerosol cans, drinks cartons and clean plastic food packaging (with the film lids removed) into your pink sacks.
Our original sponsor Community Waste from our recycling facility gives away a cheque for £100, while our refuse and recycling contractor Serco offers £100 of Love2shop gift vouchers which can be redeemed at many high street outlets - for more information visit: www.highstreetvouchers.com/giftvouchers/love2shop-vouchers.

To find out more about the Cash for Trash scheme, see a gallery of some of our recent winners and to check out the rules in full, visit www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/cashfortrash.
